Inspirational Thought:

The world's definition of success differs greatly from God's. Whether we draw a crowd or not, success is measured by obedience; this looks different for each believer. God bestows upon His followers gifts tailored to each one's ordained assignments and we're to give our best effort. We are entrusted with God-appointed work; He assigns the duty, provides the skills, and causes growth. The Lord deserves all of the glory. We are blessed simply to be a part of His plan. As mere vessels that God uses, we should be thankful for anything He accomplishes through us. God created you for specific tasks to further His kingdom. He wants to use your life--and will allow you to watch His powerful hand at work.
